

DENTAL

Continued from Page 1

triage center and an X-ray station.

"If it wasn't for this, I would have to wait for tax time," said South Norfolk resident Jessamy, who has a job but no insurance until she pays a year of premiums. "Dental work is a luxury."

Harper and Melissa Sears of Newport News work in fast food, and dental insurance is unavailable to them because they are not management.

"We have no insurance whatsoever," said Harper, who has needed several of his bottom teeth pulled for at least a year. "All the dentists in Newport News and nobody has an opening. When they do, they want an arm and a leg to pull teeth."

Spence went to the dentist three years ago and was told she needed a half dozen fillings.

"I couldn't afford it," she admitted, awaiting an X-ray.

After two days of dental procedures, Tina Favre of Newport News takes a look at herself – the first time she had smiled in over a year. She gives Carol Cleckner, wife and dental assistant of Dr. Dennis Cleckner, a hug after getting two new front teeth and having damage corrected to other teeth, the result of a physical assault she suffered last year.

"I just heard about this clinic from a friend last night. I'm really excited about it."

Community outreach

Dental Access Days was sponsored by local dentists Dag Zapatero and Albert Konikoff. Both are alums of the Pankey Institute, a non-profit organization in Key Biscayne, Fla., that promotes oral health care through continuing education.

The community outreach brought together dentists, hygienists and assistants from all over Hampton Roads, largely on an appointment basis with a limited number of walk-ins.

Dentist Dennis Cleckner and his assistant and wife, Carol, were among the volunteers. The couple from Western Branch said their intent, as always, was to put patients at ease.

"No matter where we go, we treat people as if they were our highest paying patients," Carol Cleckner said. "I give them hugs, escort them out. I want them to feel like they're valued, like we're all in this together."

SAMUEL ROGERS PHOTOS | SPECIAL TO THE VIRGINIAN-PILOT

with her wisdom teeth for the last seven years. The pain worsened three years ago when half of one tooth cracked off. But her job does not include dental insurance, so she put off fixing the problem until Saturday.

"This is a really wonderful service," she said.

Great Bridge's Thomas Bakke echoed that sentiment. A licensed truck driver, Bakke has battled medical problems, losing three jobs in the last five years due to ill health. "I need nine fillings."

Wait time was short for most patients, many of whom left notes of gratitude for the work they received. It was pouring rain when Johnson got out of the chair, but she didn't mind getting drenched on the way to her car.

"It's messy out here, but I just got two teeth pulled," she said, showing off a huge smile. "I'm so happy."

Vicki L. Friedman, 222-5218, Vicki.Friedman@pilotonline.com

INVITE WARMTH.
GLOW ON THE INSIDE AND OUT.
Nothing is better than sharing an evening with good friends. The right chandelier is what brings the extra touch of warmth to your table. Visit our showroom to help make your table complete.

HILLEGASS LIGHTING

Wholesale Electrical Supplies & Lighting Fixtures
1728 South Military Hwy. Ches. 420-6221
www.hillegasslighting.com

Annual Festival of Holidays

CRAFT SHOW

FREE ADMISSION

Indian River High School
1969 Braves Trail • Chesapeake, VA
(757) 578-7000

October 17, 2009
10:00am - 4:00pm

OVER 100 CRAFTERS INCLUDE:
Flower Arrangements,
Woodworking, Stained Glass, Jewelry, Gourmet
Foods, Ceramics and MUCH MORE!!!

Find that special and unique item created by vendors from all around the state.

LAWN DOCTOR
Chesapeake & Virginia Beach
"Locally Owned & Operated Since 1985"

WEED CONTROL • SEEDING • GRANULAR FERTILIZATION
TREE & SHRUB CARE • NATURAL PROGRAMS

Call Today For A FREE Estimate!
VA Beach / Chesapeake
436-4965
www.lawndoctor.com

10% OFF
All Fall Services
(Including Power Seeding)
Not valid with any other discount or coupon offer.
For New Customers Only. Offer expires 10/18/09.

Give him a break. Give us a chance.
Make the call that makes the difference. Tutoring Club guarantees to improve academic performance in less time and at a lower cost than any other program.

Call Now 54-TUTOR (548-8867)

Tutoring Club
A Class Above. Guaranteed.
www.TutoringClub.com

824 Greenbrier Pkwy
Ste. 101 • Chesapeake
(next to Chesapeake City Park)

BEST
GOLD WINNER